

ABSTRACT

An apparatus includes a low-pressure mercury vapor discharge lamp having two luminescent portions each radiating in a different color, and a ballast for the lamp. The ballast includes AC supply means for supplying an AC current to the lamp, and DC supply means for simultaneously supplying a DC current to the lamp. The DC supply means has means for changing the intensity and/or direction of said DC current.